

URBAN CYCLING HALL OF FAME - ANNOUNCES INAUGURAL INDUCTEES FOR THE FIRST CLASS OF 2013

HIROYUKI SINO SHINOZUKA

TOKYO

Sino is truly a rider's rider. When Sino is on the streets of Tokyo, he is simply the fastest thing on two wheels. Sino was crowned Cycle Messenger World Champion in 2008 and was the first Japanese winner. Sino recently came back from a major injury-sustained when he was run over while on the job—to stand on the CMWC podium again.

SARAH "MURDER" TORGRIMSON

SAN FRANCISCO

Sarah Murder is an SF staple. She has participated and won races across the globe and holds several North American Cycle Courier Championships. Beyond her speed on the bike, she is a valued member of the local and global messenger scene and owns Pushbike SF, a boutique cycling apparel shop in San Francisco's Mission District.

FELIPE "THE KING" ROBAYO

NEW YORK CITY

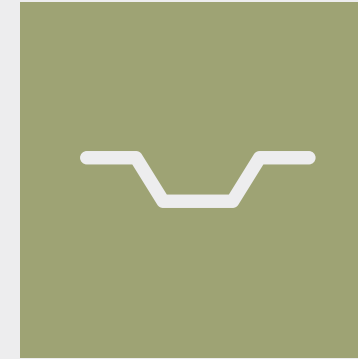

A member of the Team Puma messenger squad and self-proclaimed King of New York, Felipe has been on the streets for a long time, and he's been racing most of it. Felipe skitching through traffic with grace and ease is testament to how close man and machine can become.

ROLAND BURNS

PHILADELPHIA

Roland is the founder of REload Bags and a former messenger, and it's hard to think of anyone who's done more to support the urban-cycling community, locally and globally. Roland also donates hand-stitched bags to nearly every major race.

URBAN CYCLING HALL OF FAME

THE URBAN CYCLING HALL OF FAME CELEBRATES THE PEOPLE, EVENTS AND ARTIFACTS THAT HAVE SHAPED URBAN CYCLING.

SHELDON BROWN

BOSTON

Though Sheldon has passed on, he was and still is the online guru for bike knowledge and DIY repair. If you ride a fixed-gear or single-speed, chances are very high that you're familiar with the Sheldon Brown gear calculator. Sheldon's legacy and the work he did for the entire cycling community during his lifetime will always be remembered.

GREG UGALDE

NEW YORK CITY

Greg has been on the streets for more than 15 years, full of a passion for art and a love of the cycling community. His artwork has adorned the flyers and spoke cards for nearly every race held in NYC over the past decade, most notably the Monster Track race, which brings several hundred registered riders every year.

ANTONIO "TONE" RODRIGUES

NEW YORK CITY

Tone is the creator and organizer of Cranksgiving, an alley-cat race that donates food to the needy. Cranksgiving now runs in major cities across the country, making a big impact for the less fortunate and providing a place for the spirit of competition and community to thrive.

JAMES MOORE

NYC & BERLIN

Now retired, James is a veteran NYC and Berlin messenger who's considered the godfather of global bike-messenger culture. The Cycle Messenger World Championships, which has changed the landscape of urban cycling forever, is his brainchild. His idea has brought the messenger community together like nothing else and changed countless lives.

CRITICAL MASS

EVERYWHERE

While there is no organizer to speak of and no president, Critical Mass rides take place in every major city in the U.S. and deserve special recognition. No other event in the cycling community brings as many like-minded people together, celebrating the pure joy of being on two wheels in the city. Riding in a group of several thousand and displacing motor-vehicle traffic is an experience one never forgets.
